USE NOTES

It is recommended to file a Response in five (5) days. Responses filed after 4:30 PM will be file stamped the next business day.

The petitioner is the party who presents a petition to the court. The respondent is the party against whom a petition is filed. Either may file a motion.

Rule 6-2-118(A): Temporary Restraining Order

(A) Upon motion of a plaintiff upon the filing of a complaint the Court may issue a temporary restraining order without notice to the adverse party, but only if the party seeking the order shows by affidavit or other sworn evidence that such party will suffer immediate, irreparable and non-monetary injury, loss or damage, unless such order is entered, and such party further shows that it attempted to give notice to the adverse party of its intention to seek such order from the Court. Any such order granted without notice shall remain in force only until the time of a hearing before the Court, which shall be no more than ten (10) days after the date of the granting of the order unless the Court, for good cause shown, extends such order for a like period, at which hearing the Court shall consider whether to enter a preliminary injunction. The temporary restraining order shall be promptly served upon the adverse party, and shall state the date, time and place of the hearing on the motion for preliminary injunction.

Rule 6-1-106: All Documents Must Be Signed

(A) Every document filed in the Contemporary Court shall be signed by the party submitting the document or that party's attorney or advocate. The address and phone number of the individual signing must follow the signature. By signing, the party, attorney or advocate submitting the document certifies that to the best of that person's knowledge, and after investigating the matter, the document is not submitted for an improper purpose, and is factually accurate and is or can be supported by admissible evidence, and that the claims are supported by existing law or, if existing law is unclear, by what the person believes in good faith the law should be. If a party is represented by an attorney or advocate, only the attorney or advocate may file papers.
